1. Agenda (Goehring)

MSP Approved amended agenda for February 4, 2014.

2. Minutes (Goehring)

Approved with Senator Donadey's suggestions

3. Announcements (Eadie)

President Hirshman has approved the December Senate actions. We are still waiting on the meet and confer for the policy changes proposed by the Active Transportation Task Force. The hold-up is on disability issues. I apologize for the long process, and that we are operating in a "policy vacuum." Unfortunately, our Vice Chair, Ghada Osman, has had to resign over health concerns. I would like to thank her for her service. Senator Ornatowski has been serving as Interim, as appointed by SEC. We will be electing her replacement today. Please place March 12 on your calendars for the Senate Distinguished Professor lecture and luncheon. It will likely occur in the new Student Union. There is a major announcement regarding the naming of the new Student Union tomorrow (February 5) at 10:30. The naming reflects a large donation which will support scholarships and the Honors College. I encourage all of you to attend. In regard to searches, Eric Rivera has been named the Vice President for Student Affairs. Senator Snavely has update on the Provost Search Committee. (Senator Snavely): The search is going well and we have a nice pool of candidates. We hope to invite the candidates to campus later this Spring.

4. Academic Affairs (Marlin)

In regard to the budget, the Governor has said he would give CSU $142 million. The Chancellor has promised $50 million for improving graduation rates. I am not clear on where the funding will originate, but the Chancellor says it will be through private funding and initiatives. While most of that budget is for enrollment growth, I am concerned about our current students and funding for the support of our current students. We cannot continue to increase enrollment and leave the problems encountered by current students unchecked. We are also in the alternative consultation phase of the student success fee initiative. These forums are ongoing for the next several weeks, so please encourage your students to attend. In regard to Fulbright Scholarships, Pat Huckle, a longtime faculty member in charge of Fulbrights, is now retired. Alda Blanco is the new faculty member in charge of Fulbright scholarships. SDSU is one of the leading producers of Fulbrights over the last few years. Eleven of our students have been recommended on to the next step.

(Senator Toombs): Provost Marlin mentioned that the Governor's proposed budget is not enough, but it is not final, so we still have time to propose more money. The budget is not a done deal, so there is still time to intervene.

5. Senate Vice Chair Election

Cezar Ornatowski elected by acclamation

8. New Business: Consent Calendar (Committee Reports)

MSP To receive the reports on the Consent Calendar.

8.1 ASCSU (Wheeler)

Information:

Funding

The CSU will not, most likely, have its funding "restored" (the word is clearly not preferred). Rather, any new funding is seen as an opportunity to search for new funding models for the CSU, as well as to put pressure on the CSU to change. There is a sense in the Governor's office that increases in funding to the CSU may not, in the future, be tied solely to enrollments increases (as in the past), but to increases in "efficiencies within the system" (i.e. shortening time to degree). The sense is that increasing efficiencies is the way to serve more students (20,000 are being turned away at present) (information from conversation with the LAO and State Dept. of Finance).

The state wants to increase the 4-year graduation rate, but the ASCSU and the Chancellor's Office are arguing that this goal is not realistic for CSU students, many of whom take classes part-time and have to work. They argue that for our students increasing the 6-year (or even 8-year) graduation rate is a more realistic measure of success. According to Chancellor White, "accountability has to be based on metrics that reflect the mission of the CSU and the character of our students. "We have nothing to apologize for in having a lot of part-time students."

The Governor has announced a $50 million "innovation award" program to campuses or groups of campuses that meet three state priorities:

- Increase number of people with BA
- Shorten time to degree
- Simplify the cross-segmental transfer, ease of access, credit for life experience, as well as to reduce the cost of instruction

Criteria include scalability and applicability of the proposed model to other campuses.

CalState Online

The Cal State Online Advisory Board has been replaced by the CSU Commission on Online Education (COE), which is a newly established body charged by the Chancellor to provide advice and recommendations to the Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Chief Academic Officer of the CSU. The COE will consist of 19 voting members, including four faculty members nominated by the Academic Senate as well as the chair of the Academic Senate.

Legislative Affairs

SD 520 (Steinberg) (the “MOOCS bill”) is pretty much dead, not going to be reintroduced this year, perhaps never. Generally, the enthusiasm for MOOCs appears to be passing, following the failure of the San Jose State experiment with Udacity.

Rep. Marty Block is introducing a bill (SB 850) to allow Community colleges to offer bachelor’s degrees (one pilot degree program per CC district). The CSU is treading carefully in opposing it, since it does not wish to repeat the insulting attacks of UC against CSU’s professional and joint PhD degree proposals. The ASCSU is discussing a resolution in opposition (see AS-3163-14/AA/FGA in first reading items below)

The 120-unit Limit

It appears that the deadline to implement the 120-unit limit is not as “deadly” as it appeared. Programs that do not meet the 120-unit deadline just “do not make it,” and nothing happens; the CO will continue “working with campuses.” Programs that requested an exception and did not receive a response do not have to meet the deadline (information from Chris Mallon of the CO)

Online Concurrent Enrollment (Course Matching)

A memo from VC Ephraim Smith invited campuses to submit candidate “high-demand and high-success” courses for the Online Concurrent Enrollment (OCE) program (also referred to as Course Matching). Candidate courses must be delivered through fully online technologies and will be made available for CSU students for concurrent enrollment in Winter 2014 or Spring 2014. The CO will host the website for students to find the available OCE courses (www.calstate.edu/concurrent).

Webinar for Faculty on Student Success

February 7, 2014, 12:00 pm -1 pm.

The Institute for Teaching and Learning at the Office of the Chancellor announces a webinar “From Student to Informed Consumer of Learning” by Drs. Ed Nuhfer and Karl Wirth. Modeled after their highly popular workshop at the 2013 ITL Summer Institute, the webinar deals with the application of metacognition in pedagogy to improve student success. The workshop brings tools and practices that faculty can employ in any course in any discipline to increase students' capacity to become self-directed learners. Tools demonstrated and employed will include program learning documents, modules about learning, reading reflections, reflective learning journals, and knowledge surveys.

Campus groups participating in the webinar are eligible to for minigrants to support implementation of these approaches. Funding will be available for faculty stipends of $250 each, and modest hospitality for supporting face2face interaction of a campus group of up to 8 faculty. RSVP to Wayne Tikkanen (wtikkanen@calstate.edu) to receive the link for the webinar and the 2-page application for the mini grant.

Resolutions

At the January 22-24, 2014 ASCSU plenary meeting, four resolutions were passed.

Supports the inclusion of criteria for long-term lecturers in all campus faculty emeritus policies.

Five resolutions received their first reading

AS-3160-13/EX/FA Selection of Faculty Representatives in Shared Governance

AS-3161-14/APEP Meeting Common Core Standards as CSU Admission Requirements

Urges the CSU to adopt the language of the Common Core State Standards as it defines college readiness in its admission and prerequisite requirements, with specific reference to Mathematics.

AS-3162-14/FA Facilitation of Communication Between ASCSU and Faculty

Urges campus Senate Chairs and Provosts to facilitate communication between campus faculty and the ASCSU Senators who “represent the entire faculty of a campus, and not the campus academic senate.

AS-3163-14/AA/FGA Concerns Regarding a Community College Baccalaureate Degree Pilot Program (SB 850 - Block)

Opposes any legislation authorizing California Community Colleges to offer baccalaureate degrees.

AS-3164-14/AA In Support of Ethnic Studies

Commends Chancellor White for convening a task force to study Ethnic Studies in the CSU and for instituting a moratorium on changes to Ethnic Studies programs
And urges CSU campuses and the Office of the Chancellor to vigorously support the growth of Ethnic Studies by providing adequate funding and support, and ; and be it further encourages campuses to evaluate Ethnic Studies departments and programs on the basis of merit and educational and societal value rather than financial considerations.

Copies of this and other resolutions may be found at <http://www.calstate.edu/AcadSen/Records/Resolutions/>. Faculty are encouraged to provide feedback on the above resolutions as well as on any other matters of potential concern to the CSU Academic Senate to the SDSU academic senators Bill Eadie (weadie@mail.sdsu.edu), Cezar Ornatowski (ornat@mail.sdsu.edu), and Mark Wheeler (wheeler1@mail.sdsu.edu).

8.2 Academic Policy and Planning (Schellenberg)

Information:

Approved proposal to Chancellor's Office to convert M.S. Program in Homeland Security from pilot to regular status. Pilot program was authorized to admit students for up to five years and deadline has arrived for request to regular status. Proposal provided requested information on faculty resources, facility resources, enrollments, quality, societal need (including labor and market demand), student demand, appropriateness to educational mission, costs, and preparation of graduates for employment.

Approved proposal to change name of minor and MA degrees offered by the recently renamed Department of Learning Design and Technology from "Educational Technology" to "Learning Design and Technology." This change aligns the names of the department and its academic programs.

8.3 Academic Resources and Planning (Deutschman)

Information:

Review and Approval of Master of Science in Homeland Security [13-99]

The committee evaluated the proposal requesting that the pilot Master of Science in Homeland Security become a permanent program. The committee noted the success of the pilot program in terms of student interest, enrollment, and graduates. The committee also noted that the program does not require any additional resources and will not adversely impact other programs. The request to approve the Master of Science in Homeland security was approved unanimously.

Discussion of Proposal #13-01a: Name change for programs

#13-01a is a proposal to change the name from "Educational Technology" to "Learning Design and Technology" for the minor and the Master's degree. This change brings these two degrees in line with the recent name change of the unit. The committee discussed the proposal. They noted that although there was little information in the proposal, the memo dated Nov. 13 was sufficient. The proposed name change was approved unanimously.

Discussion of Senate Officers Referral

ARP discussed the Senate officers' referral their last three meetings. The committee adopted a two-pronged approach. (1) Compiling data/information from Faculty Affairs and Academic Affairs (i.e. centralized), (2) having ARP members discuss budgeting with representatives within their college (i.e. decentralized).

- (1) Information from Faculty Affairs and Academic Affairs:

The committee has compiled information from multiple sources. The information is available from several sources including information items presented to SEC and the SENATE from Faculty Affairs and Academic Affairs. Our committee will be presenting a summary of this information as introductory material in our final report.

(2) Information from College representatives:

The committee developed a list of potential topics/questions for college representatives. Compilation and evaluation of the answers will be used to create a list of recommended best practices for the decision-making process as well as communication about budget priorities and decisions.

ARP will compile the results from these discussions in our report to the Senate. The report will be forward-looking in nature and discuss best practices that promote transparency in the budget process. These best practices will be relevant horizontally (i.e. across colleges/units at the same level) as well as vertically (i.e. from colleges to departments to faculty/staff).

8.4 CFA (Toombs) Information:

Budget proposal for CSU

Governor Brown released his 2014/15 budget proposal last week. The governor's budget includes improved funding for public higher education. CFA believes, however, that the governor's proposal does not go far enough if we are to rebuild the CSU and maintain quality public higher education for our students. The Speaker of the Assembly, John Perez, has proposed a higher funding level for the CSU, and CFA is urging legislators to support the Speaker's CSU funding proposal. You can urge your legislator to support increased CSU funding at this link:

http://capwiz.com/calpac/issues/alert/?alertid=63053626&type=ST&show_alert=1

Re-cap of most recent contract session

The CFA Bargaining Team met with representatives of CSU management on January 9 and 10 in Long Beach for discussions that the CFA Team called "cordial and constructive." The sides took up two topics of great concern to faculty members: salary and workload. While no fully developed proposals or solutions have been offered yet, the sides worked to identify areas of general agreement. Importantly, they agreed that the lack of adequate salary increases has hurt faculty across the CSU system. CSU management acknowledged specific issues that CFA has been raising for years, including salary inversion and compression, stagnation, and equity.

CFA made a presentation at the bargaining session on workload. The CFA Bargaining Team identified areas within teaching, research and service where, over the years, the demands on faculty have become excessive. CFA suggested a variety of ways that the issue could be addressed in each category of work. The next bargaining sessions are scheduled for January 30-31.

CFA proposal for salary Equity Pay program

CFA proposed to President Hirshman last fall that he create a salary Equity Pay program ("Equity 3") for faculty members on our campus. Our current CFA-CSU Collective Bargaining Agreement allows campus presidents to address salary inequities through campus-based equity programs. SDSU could take this action, right now, under our current contract.

President Hirshman said he cannot commit funds for this proposal. He wrote, "Given that we are entering bargaining for a number of successor contracts, I can not commit funds to an equity 3 program or IRP program to support staff until I have a full understanding of the funds required to meet the provisions of the successor contracts."

This is a great disappointment. We are still operating under the contract that was signed in 2012; that contract has not yet expired. Given that the 2012 contract is still in force, there should not be any hesitancy by our administration to implement the terms of that contract -- even for discretionary items such as the Equity Pay program.

President Hirshman has agreed that I may share his written response with you, as long as it is made clear that the response he provided applies to CFA's request for an Equity 3 program and there is not "any misinterpretation of it as a comment on specific issues associated with bargaining for the successor contract." I have included the full text of President Hirshman's response:

Text of President Hirshman's response:

"Charles,

Thank you for your note regarding the Equity 3 program.

First, let me affirm and acknowledge the importance of enhancing compensation for our dedicated faculty and staff members.

This is especially pressing for our long-serving faculty and staff members.

As we discussed, I am especially concerned about the discrepancy between the salaries of our full professors and those of full professors at our peer institutions designated in the IPEDS survey, as well as other discrepancies among faculty that you have mentioned. Likewise, I recognize the importance of addressing concerns raised by staff members.

Given that we are entering bargaining for a number of successor contracts, I can not commit funds to an equity 3 program or IRP program to support staff until I have a full understanding of the funds required to meet the provisions of the successor contracts.

I know we share the desire for a speedy and successful resolution of these bargaining processes that will serve the interests of our faculty, our staff and the entire university.

With best regards,
Elliot Hirshman"

Please feel free to contact our campus California Faculty Association office at any time if we can provide assistance, whether on a contract rights issue or other matter. Our campus CFA chapter has a Faculty Rights Committee, composed of faculty volunteers, and we are available to talk with faculty colleagues about individual situations and assist in resolving issues. Information:

DEO analysis of tenured/tenure-track faculty data, Fall 2008-Fall 2013

Based on data provided by Faculty Affairs, October 2013

The three most diverse colleges in terms of race and gender have also been the ones that have suffered the most cuts in T/TT faculty percentage-wise: Library -32% (-8 faculty), Education -24.5% (-23 faculty), IVC -23% (-5 faculty).

Engineering lost 16% of its faculty (-9), Arts and Letters and Business Administration both lost 12% (-26 and -9, respectively). Sciences lost 11% (-20). Because ENS moved from PSFA to HHS, percentages are not provided for these colleges.

The Colleges of Sciences and of Health and Human Services have no African American T/TT faculty. The Library has no Hispanic T/TT faculty. Business Admin only has 1 African American and 1 Hispanic T/TT faculty members.

The only colleges that have Native American T/TT faculty members are Arts & Letters, PSFA, and Sciences. There are no Pacific Islander T/TT faculty at SDSU.

The College of Engineering only has 3 female T/TT faculty members (the national norm is much higher) and the College of Sciences only has 3 women of color T/TT faculty members.

In Fall 2013, among instructional T/TT faculty (not counting librarians), there are 3.1% African Americans (22), 8.25% Hispanics (58), and 13.2% Asians (93). The dwindling numbers of African American tenured/tenure-track faculty are cause for extreme concern. Given our status as a Hispanic-Serving Institution, it would also behoove SDSU to have larger numbers of Hispanic tenured/tenure-track faculty.

Between Fall 2008 and Fall 2013, the number of Assistant Professors among instructional T/TT faculty (not counting librarians) dropped more than half (from 189 to 92). This reflects the hiring freeze due to 4 years of intense budget cuts.

Overall, 25.45% of all T/TT faculty members are faculty of color and 40% are women. (11.4% are women of color, 14% are men of color, 29% are white women, and 45.6% are white men.) By comparison, in Fall 2011, 24% of the T/TT faculty were faculty of color and 42% were women. There has been a small increase in ethnic diversity and a small decrease in gender diversity in the last two years.

Discussion:

(Senator Preciado): (For section 8.3): I appreciated the discussion of staff in the report, but I wonder if the questions about decentralizing the budget took other departments into consideration, as well as staff in Academic Affairs. I look forward to working with you on the committee. (Senator Schellenberg): It is important that we focus on recommendations moving forward. If done poorly the prioritization needs to be dealt with. Trying to develop set of recommendations for that. (Senator Preciado): The State funds us to do a variety of roles, but many times the staff doesn't receive the money budgeted from the State for staff roles such as advising. We want to make sure that we take staff into consideration and make sure the staff gets those resources allotted to them.

(Senator Mattingly): (For section 8.4): In your report you talk about the CSU budget and there is a link. What is that and why is it important? (Senator Toombs): If you click on the link, will take you to the CFA webpage, where you can plug in your zipcode. The site will then tell you who your Legislator is. There are prewritten statements to send to that Legislator, or you can write your own. It is simply a tool to help get more funding from the Governor. We are all concerned about faculty raises, and we need more money for that.

(Senator Donadey): (For section 8.5): Correction for DEO report (p. 22, 2nd bullet) - ENS moved from PSFA to HHS and not the other way around. (Senator Preciado): Did recommendations from the DEO to expand tenure track committee happen? (Chair Eadie): That will be coming next month.

Senator Donadey): (For section 8.6): On page 25, referencing the new course (792) in Child and Family Development, the language in the second sentence does not make sense. I recommend an editorial change. On pages 25 and 26, why is it only offered in the College of Extended Studies? (Balsdon had left the meeting)

(Senator Donadey): (For section 8.7): On page 28, I recommend an editorial change. The CFD title needs to read “Families at Risk” rather than “Family at Risk.”
